"Then in the 1966 congressional elections and in 1968, as casualty lists mount, some Republican politicians, now urging acceleration of the war by bombing Hanot and Haiphong and even Red China, will be first to denounce as 'Lyndon's war.'

The 76-year-old Democrat praised President Johnson's efforts to negotiate peace.

"CAN ANYONE claim that we would lose face and that our prestige in Asia would be damaged were we to withdraw from this conflict?" he asked, "A great nation like ours cannot lose face by withdrawing from a miserable war. We have loss face by fooling around with it."
